BEST IN SWEDEN

WE'RE NOT THE ones to toot our own horn, but let's face it – we sure can pick them! Remember how much praise we've been giving Ross architecture & design? Oh well, now it's official, Ross is responsible for "Best Architecture Single Residence Sweden" according to The 2013 European Property Awards.

When Europe's finest architects gathered at the glamorous Grosvenor House Hotel in London to attend a sparkling gala and to hear the long – anticipated results of the International Property Awards regional competition, no one was surprised when Ross was awarded with Best Architecture Single Residence Sweden for the beautiful Villa Viktor.

Pål Ross, founder, CEO and architect at Ross architecture & design said:

"It is a great joy that my interpretation of architecture is awarded in this international context. It is obviously a teamwork, where the studios six employees have contributed and contributes daily to renew residential environments. Ross home market is Sweden, but we are already active in Turkey and Norway and looking forward exporting our concept to new markets.

We are driven by gilding the life's days with the environment we live in. Function, movements and experiences affect us in one way or another. Different environments result in different lives."

SINCE 1995, The International Property Awards have celebrated the highest levels of achievement by companies operating in all sectors of the property and real estate industry. Awards are given out for Europe's most impressive architecture for a variety of property types including leisure facilities, shopping centers, high-rises, public service buildings, office complexes, golf courses, and multiple and single residences.

The judging panel consists of esteemed professionals including Andrew Panting, Director of Operations for the British Property Federation, Peter Bolton King, Global Residential Director of the Royal Institute of Chartered Surveyors (RICS); and Christian Morris, Director and Owner of architectural firm Yotomo Ltd.

Therefore it is a great pleasure for us to join this knowledgeable crew and congratulate Ross, and of course, keep an eye on upcoming great achievement. ■

"AWARDS ARE GIVEN OUT FOR EUROPE'S MOST IMPRESSIVE ARCHITECTURE FOR A VARIETY OF PROPERTY TYPES INCLUDING LEISURE FACILITIES, SHOPPING CENTERS, HIGH-RISES, PUBLIC SERVICE BUILDINGS, OFFICE COMPLEXES, GOLF COURSES, AND MULTIPLE AND SINGLE RESIDENCES."
